Deaconess Brown wants us to always be encouraged and to know that God has absolute control over time in our lives. He's never ever late. He's never premature. He knows the situation, He knows the circumstance. When we commit our lives totally to GOD, we'll find that our time and our lives are in his hands. Living and believing this principle will take away the pressures and problems of everyday life situations. God has total control over the time element in our lives; our lives are his hands. Know it, Embrace it, and let the peace of GOD through his Spirit keep you and love you forever.
